Bilious Remittent Pevers, And Intermittent Fevers, which are so preva-lent in the Valleys of the Pacific Coast, during the Summer and Autumn, and especially dur-ing seasons of unusual heat and dryuess, are invariably accompanied with extensive de-rangements of the Stomach and Liver, and other abdominal viscera. There are always more or less obstructions of the Liver, a weakness and irratable state of the Stomach, and great topor of the Bowels, being clogged up with vittated secumulations. In their treat-ment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathactic for this pur-pose equal to Dr. J. The universal popularity of this valuable remely in regions subject to miasmatic influences, is sufficient evidence of its power as a remedy in ich diseases.
